Mentoring for Success in a Virtual World

A Panel Discussion moderated by Rebecca Weintraub

Mentoring is one of those things that's in the eye of the beholder. I might think I've just had a career counseling session or a Q-and-A, and they walk out going, I think I was just mentored. Join me for an inspirational exploration of tips for finding and making the most of life-changing opportunities to mentor and be mentored.

“ Show me a successful individual and I'll show you someone who had real positive influences in his or her life. I don't care what you do for a living—if you do it well I'm sure there was someone cheering you on or showing the way – a mentor.” — Denzel Washington ”

Rebecca Weintraub has spent more than 20 years in the field of communication, facilitation, change management and organizational behavior. Dr. Weintraub is a clinical professor at USC in the Annenberg School for Communication & Journalism. She teaches strategic communication classes in the Communication Management program.
